Welcome to TSCA Convention 2017!

I hope you are all ready for an exceptional experience. We are looking forward to some well-planned and enthusiastic presentations in our panels. We are excited to honor members for their years of service, hard work, and commitment to speech education and we are ready to help you face the challenges of this job, this career, this way of life.

When I was considering themes for convention, I kept going back to why I come to convention every year. For almost 2 decades I have come to meet with educators much like myself once a year to learn more, to be a better teacher. There's something special about what we do professionally. We challenge not just others' ideas, we challenge our own. We don't just push our students to be better, we push ourselves. Is this an idealized vision of this organization and its members? Perhaps, but the empirical evidence speaks for itself. I know some of you have paid your own way to be here. I know some of you have given up yet another weekend with your significant other, your children, your cats... I know some of you are tired, so very tired. That is why I come back every year. When I am exhausted, frustrated, befuddled, and fed up with the world around me (my district, my team, my family, my circuit, my life) I come to this place.

Speech and debate coaches are a special breed of humans. They aren't afraid to tell you the truth. They aren't afraid to hear the truth. And they are passionate about what they do. I was raised to believe that I could enter any profession I wanted to enter. That I was capable of accomplishing what I set my mind to accomplish. That I was obligated to contribute to leaving my world better than I found it. I was raised to do something I believe in and am passionate about. And without fail, the people I meet here each year, the people I work with so many weekends out of the year, these people not only work for less pay than other professionals of their caliber but often they volunteer their time to present at workshops throughout the year. They help students from neighboring schools improve performances. They mentor new coaches without pay, without recognition. For most of you, the sincere thanks of those you're helping is all the compensation you need. Some of you conduct workshops and work camps, getting paid for your extra time. And sometimes you feel guilty for it. And sometimes, often, those you help feel guilty that they cannot pay you more. Because the reality is: if we do our jobs right, what we have to give is invaluable. We don't just teach a subject, we teach a way of life. We teach people to pay attention, to use their voice to improve their condition and the condition of others. We teach them not just to question, but to ask the right questions. We give students the tools to excel, to climb, and to build.

As proud as I am of each of you for doing that, as proud as I am to be a member of this club, I'm so much more proud when I see you teaching each other: Sharing ideas, lessons, activities, and curriculum. I am proud when I see you sitting next to someone you haven't seen all year and asking them how they are doing, and listening. I am proud when I see you celebrating with one another. I am proud when I see you holding one another accountable. I am proud when you make the connection that this organization exists to nurture educators and you embrace that.

I hope you will find refreshing conversation, answers to your questions, and inspiration this weekend. I also hope that you will bring those things for someone else.

Go Team!

Melissa Witt

Dear Friends,

Greetings! As your current Texas Communication Association's Vice President, it is my pleasure to welcome you to our 2017 Convention: Infusion: Inspiring Minds Want to Grow. As educators, nothing keeps us more inspired and motivated than working with exciting and enthusiastic young people and colleagues every day who share our passions. Education is a very high calling, and I hope this event provides you the opportunity to visit with friends, make new acquaintances, and share your experiences in teaching. My hope is that you find encouragement as you listen to speakers, participate in sessions, and interact with other educators from around the state.

This year's program celebrates a full schedule of amazing and innovative panels. Please be certain to make note of (and attend) our convention highlights in this year's program. Thanks to our amazing local arrangements committee chaired by Martha Anne Pierson, these highlights will include a Professor's Performance Hour on Thursday evening and the introduction of our 2017 Communicator of the Year: State Representative Kevin Roberts during our Friday luncheon. Additionally, be sure to join us at 7:00 pm on Friday to help us celebrate 2016-2017 TSCA President Melissa Witt at our President's reception. This reception will also include presentations of our Educators of the Year and Outstanding Service Awards.

For those of you who are new to TSCA, Welcome!!! Please be sure to pick up your ribbon at registration that denotes your new member status. This ribbon will admit you to our New Member Breakfast Friday morning at 8:00 am. Please join us to learn more about TSCA. This ribbon will also allow other members to recognize you and welcome you to our wonderful organization.

At this point, I need to thank a number of individuals for their patience and guidance in developing this year's program. I must thank my fellow officers, the Local Arrangements Committee members, our Interest Group Chairs and the administration of Lone Star College - North Harris. Without these individuals, and many others not mentioned, none of this would be possible. This program is absolutely the product of great minds infusing and working together to provide our attendees the best possible experience.

On behalf of TSCA, please accept my best wishes for a production and inspiring convention.

See you in Dallas,
Wade Hesch
TSCA Vice President

Fall 2017

Dear TSCA/TFA Attendees:

As a fifth generation Texan and one that has called Houston home since I was eight (8) years old I want to take the opportunity to showcase and brag on this beautifully diverse city. We encompass over 627 square miles. Vibrant cities in the area are The Woodlands, Sugar Land, Baytown, Pearland, Friendswood, Conroe, West University Place, Southside Place, and Bellaire to name a few. School districts are numerous. Possibilities for exploration are limitless!

I welcome each of you to experience the many opportunities Houston offers. From the shopping, museums, nightlife, eateries, parks, etc. there truly is something here for everyone. The University of St. Thomas (my alma mater), the University of Houston, Lone Star College, Houston Community College, Rice University, Texas Southern University, Houston Baptist University, San Jacinto College, South Texas College of Law, UT Health Science Center, the Culinary Institute of Houston, etc. all call Houston "home," have fabulous facilities, and would welcome a visit from you.

Appreciate and bask in your time here. Don't think of Houston as a jumbled "big city." Think of it as a place to reconnect with fellow colleagues and educators, to refuel for your students, to simply "take a break" from the dailyness of life. Take some "selfies," enjoy a variety of awesome culinary choices, hit up some of our world-renowned Tex-Mex eateries, etc. and if you choose to not even leave the hotel, please take advantage of and savor all the amenities. In other words, ENJOY, and thank you for your attendance.

Call for Manuscripts

Texas Speech Communication Journal Volume 44, Issue 1

The Texas Speech Communication Journal issues a call for papers that focus on research in human communication. Contributors may approach topics from multiple perspectives, contexts, and methodologies supported within the discipline. Manuscripts should be received no later than March 31, 2018. Texas Speech Communication Journal (TSCJ) follows a policy of blind review so no author identification should appear in the abstract and body of the manuscript.

Manuscripts should not exceed 25 pages, including references and figures, and should be written according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition). The manuscript should be emailed to the editor at the address listed below divided into the following two (Microsoft Word) documents:

1. Title Page – should include the author's name(s), academic position, institutional affiliation, full mailing address, telephone number, email address, brief author biography, and a history of the manuscript (presentation at conferences).
2. Abstract and Manuscript – An abstract of not more than 150 words should accompany the manuscript. The author should also include keywords for the articles. No author identification should appear in this document.

The Texas Speech Communication Journal (TSCJ) is a state journal published by the Texas Speech Communication Association. The TSCJ produces one print and one online issue per academic year, and seeks to publish original scholarship that makes a contribution to the studies of human communication. An external committee blind reviews all submissions.

Queries and manuscript submissions should be sent via email to:

TSCA Conference 2018 Call for Papers and Panels

Combating Truthiness: Teaching in a Post-Truth Era

In 2006, the dictionary people at Merriam-Webster performed a great public service by bestowing its “Word of the Year” award to “truthiness.” A phrase coined by Stephen Colbert just moments before airing an episode of The Colbert Report. Colbert explained that truthiness is not about “truth, we’re talking about something that seems like truth – the truth we want to exist.” A decade later, the Oxford Dictionaries chose “post-truth” as its word of the year for 2016. Oxford describes post-truth as “relating to or denoting circumstances in which objective facts are less influential in shaping public opinion than appeals to emotion and personal belief.”

We can assume that neither Merriam-Webster nor Oxford was thinking about teachers and students when choosing the words, but the dawning of a truthiness/post-truth era illuminates a number of major challenges for progressive-minded teachers. As Communication professionals, these facts demand that we reevaluate how we teach media literacy, but it also makes clear the work we must do to reinvigorate our approaches to inspiring students. How will we adapt to this new era? How will we inspire them to become more patient, open-minded readers? How will we inspire them to become more patient, active listeners? How will we inspire them to become more patient, critical thinkers?

How will we teach them to identify and respond to the truth?

Join us by sharing your research and ideas at the 2018 TSCA Conference in Corpus Christi, TX.

Hurricane Harvey Efforts

Many of our members have been deeply impacted by the recent Hurricane Harvey. TSCA is launching several efforts to assist where we are able. We'll update this page with details as our efforts continue.

Adopt-A-Team

TSCA is launching Adopt-A-Team to help our members affected by Hurricane Harvey. If you would like to participate please email Melissa Witt at mewitt@dimmittisd.net. All schools wishing to help and schools who have been in the path please email Melissa Witt. Spread the word!

Donors / Organizers

Several organizations and individuals have let us know that they are reaching out to victims of Hurricane Harvey. (See Page 58).

Other Ways to Help

Here is a list of suggested ways you can help. Find out specific needs or make donations primarily monetary, allowing teams to get what they need and so they don't have to deal with storage/redistribution of a bunch of stuff they don't need.

Attend tournaments hosted by Harvey impacted schools - if they're hosting, they NEED this fundraiser!

Waive entry/judging fees for Harvey impacted schools attending your tournament.

Forgo trophies at your tournament and donate the money you'd normally spend to a Harvey impacted school.

Vendors - provide free or reduced rate merchandise to Harvey impacted schools.

Pay your adopted school's organizational membership fees this year.

Host/Attend a Big Questions Debate event to raise funds for a school in need.

Join a school for their cleanup day/event if you are nearby.
Skype/Google Hangout practice with teams, especially those who won't be able to travel to tournaments.

Host a tie/suit drive.

Help with technology needs where possible.

Share briefs/digital file-share resources.

Donate books/scripts useful for speech & debate.

Pattern A Panels – 9:15 – 10:15 AM

A – 1 Putting Excitement into Extemp La Joya

Sponsor: TFA
Coordinator: Kate Rickman, O’Connor High School
Chair: Kate Rickman, O’Connor High School

Presenters: Colin Malinak, St. Mary’s Hall
 Rhonda Smith, Plano West
 Marilyn Myrick, Lake Travis High School

While extemp can be one of the most beneficial events to students as they prep for college and employment, it can be challenging to incorporate lessons for the classroom. Learn from 3 innovative educators on what they do to invigorate students in the classroom.

A – 2 Coaching Strategies with Breakout Colonnade A

Sponsor: Argumentation & Debate
Coordinator: Chris Stowe, Montgomery High School
Chair: Courtney Coffman, Northland Christian School

Presenters: Jacob Koshak, College Park High School
 Neal White, Plano Senior High School
 Rory McKenzie, Lindale High School

You've taught them how to debate, now what? Learn how to move beyond the basics of debate instruction in the classroom from some of Texas's top coaches. Get ideas for coaching advanced strategies including teaching new skills and drills. Learn how to set-up more effective practices and help your students reach the next level.

A - 3 Working the Performance: Coaching Methods on Display
Grand Ballroom F

Sponsor: Oral Interpretation & Performance Studies

Coordinator: Ashley Freeman, Alief Elsik High School

Chair: Ashley Freeman, Alief Elsik High School

Presenters: Ashley Freeman, Alief Elsik High School
Andrew Barrett, J Frank Dobie High School
Lillian Ademeyi, Seven Lakes High School
Casey Garcia, Interp Curriculum Director UNTIF/ Fluency

A - 4 Becoming Irreplaceable - Increasing
Long-term Relevance Through AP
Seminar/Research
Colonnade B

Sponsor: President

Coordinator: Kirsten Nash, Hendrickson High School

Chair: Kirsten Nash, Hendrickson High School

Presenters: Kirsten Nash, Hendrickson High School

Many of us are looking toward the future with trepidation - funding decreases, the numbers game, and other factors have caused us to look for ways to increase our relevance by diversifying our roles on campus. This session will examine the AP Capstone Program courses (AP Seminar and AP Research) and the crossover of debate skills with these courses. Come and learn about how you can petition to teach the course by identifying common curriculum, turn this course into an extension of what you already do and get your students AP credit.

A – 5 A Curricular Approach to the Multi-Level Debate Class
Grand Ballroom G

Sponsor: Instructional Development, High School
Coordinator: Stacy McGee, Cypress-Fairbanks ISD
Chair: Stacy McGee, Cypress-Fairbanks ISD

Presenters: Stacy McGee, Cypress-Fairbanks ISD

Teaching a debate class during the school day is a blessing. Figuring out how to teach multiple levels of debate in the same class can be a curse. Two educators will share their innovative approach to the multi-level debate class while still fulfilling district and state curricular expectations.

A – 6 Coaching from the Cloud:
Using Technology to Manage Your Team

 Lillian Ademeyi, Seven Lakes High School
 Louie Pecheco, Muleshoe High School
 Sami Womack, Dimmitt High School

From Classroom instruction to coaching come watch some of the masters as they share with you what works for them. Come ready to learn and be inspired. If you have a great lesson you want to share bring copies to distribute. Sharing is caring! Great for beginner and veteran teachers.

B – 4 Bridging the Curriculum

Colonnade A

Sponsor: Interpersonal / Organizational Comm.
Coordinator: Barbara Mayo, Northeast Lakeview College
Chair: Barbara Mayo, Northeast Lakeview College

Presenters: Barbara Mayo, Northeast Lakeview College – Increased
 Dual Credit Offerings
 Mike Jones, Del Mar College – Distance Learning Courses
 Justin Blacklock, San Antonio College – Common
 Assessment Strategies

Each year, speech instructors struggle with the increased demands on our curriculum to adapt to a number of circumstances. Recently we have seen student learning outcomes aligned by the THECB prompting some community colleges to develop common assessment strategies, in 2016 TSCA adopted a resolution to embrace the increase in dual enrollment courses and we have seen an increase in course offerings of speech on line. This panel will address how to "bridge the curriculum" to each of these situations and adapt to the needs of our changing environment.

B – 5 Inspiring Amazing Auditions – How to Get the Most Bang for the 1 to 1.5
Minute Performance Buck
Conference Center A

Sponsor: Theatre
Coordinator: Aimee Kasprzyk, Hillsboro High School
Chair: Aimee Kasprzyk, Hillsboro High School

Presenters: Kendra Willeby, Foster High School
 Ashley Freeman, Elsie High School

From characterization to blocking to pinpointing "the other" in a scene, this session is sure to infuse a new fire for audition materials and styles. Come learn new tips and brush up on reliable tools and techniques for helping your students to find, prepare, and perform effective and winning audition monologues. This session is ideal for high school and community college theatre teachers/directors who have students that want to go on to college, university, and professional auditions with confidence that the product they provide will catch the eye of professors and casting directors everywhere. The session will also be a wonderful opportunity for growth in any teacher, professor, or student competing in speech IE's.

B – 6 InFusing Visual Communication into the Fabric of the Institution: The Communication Training Center at
Texas Tech University
Conference Center B

Sponsor: Instructional Development, College & University
Coordinator: Dale Anderson, Del Mar College
Chair: Dale Anderson, Del Mar College

Presenters: Luke LeFebvre, Texas Tech University
 Hunter Anderson, Texas Tech University

This workshop will showcase how the CTC helps instructors, faculty, and graduate students across a wide array of disciplines to display visual information that is compelling and seamlessly designed to maximize the meaning for an audience. Attendees will learn how to spotlight what is important, utilize data as a tool for sharing information, and visually articulate the conclusion you want to share with an audience. (Great for instructors and administrators at post-secondary institutions)

B – 7 Incybered: Inspiring Students through Technology

Bolo’s PDR

Sponsor: Instructional Development, Middle School

Coordinator: Clay Wheeler, Schimelpfenig Middle School

Chair: Brandon Cohn, Bassett Middle School

Presenters: Brandon Cohn, Bassett Middle School

Vanessa Amos, Canyon Hills Middle School

Technology is ingrained into the fabric of the lives of our students. In this session, we’ll explore creative ways to use technology to inspire your students. We’ll cover creative tech integration into your classroom lessons and activities, as well as how to instill positive and appropriate uses of social media into your students’ day-to-day lives. IDEAL FOR ALL COACHES OF ANY EXPERIENCE LEVEL (MIDDLE, HIGH SCHOOL OR UNIVERSITY).

George Tennison; Olle Middle School

Teaching argumentation to younger students unfamiliar with the concept can be challenging, but we're here to help! In this session, our panelists will walk you through the basics of teaching argumentation, will give ideas for interpolating these methods into your curriculum, as well as resources and lesson plan ideas. IDEAL FOR NEW MIDDLE SCHOOL AND YOUNG HIGH SCHOOL (9TH-10TH GRADE) COACHES.

C – 8 An Inspired Idea! Developing or Adapting a Script Part 2
Conference Center A

Sponsor: Theatre

Coordinator: Aimee Kasprzyk, Hillsboro High School

Chair: Aimee Kasprzyk, Hillsboro High School

Presenters: Kari McKenzie, Lindale High School

Choosing the right plays for your kids each year is like dating, falling in love, developing a relationship, and then breaking up... so much time and effort invested into something that fleeting and ultimately from someone else to begin with. Sometimes you find "the one," sometimes, you go dateless and resort to old stand-by's, and sometimes, the break-up is sudden and leaves you wanting. However, with the knowledge of what script and story adaptation is coupled with a set of tips and rules for developing your own original ideas into full-blown scripts, you can cultivate a perfect marriage to your own original literature and give your students an amazing and new experience as well! Come armed with your own script ideas, little kernels of thought, or just to hear what the presenter shares about her own experience in developing and writing an original script as well as adapting other stories and scripts into new realities on the stage.

C - 9 What Aspiring College Competitors
Need to Know: A Round Table with some of Texas' leading DOF's!
Grand Ballroom G

Sponsor: President
Coordinator: Sami Womack, Dimmitt High School
Chair: Sami Womack, Dimmitt High School

Presenters: Sarah Contreras, Del Mar College
 Randy Cox, University of Texas at Austin

High School coaches: Join us for a round table discussion to help you prepare your students for college competition!

NOTES:

Pattern D Panels – 5:30 – 6:30 PM

D – 1 Bridging the Divide and Sharing the Wealth- Infusing Cooperation Among Programs While Demonstrating How Speech and Theatre Can Grow Us All Grand Ballroom F

Sponsor: Theatre
Coordinator: Sami Womack, Dimmitt ISD DOFA
Chair: Sami Womack, Dimmitt ISD DOFA

Presenters: Andrew Barrett, Dobie High School
 Sami Womack, Dimmitt ISD DOFA
 Kari McKenzie, Lindale High School
 Fernando Arana, Burges High School
 Shawn Duthie, Holliday High School

Almost all of us have had to deal with kids who "do it all," and often, we ask ourselves, "Why can't we have the kids when we need them?" Or "How do I get that other adult to see how my program should not only be valued but also, how my program can benefit his or hers as well?" Or "How do I keep from pitting myself against another adult and keeping the student from being in the middle of negotiations?" Particularly in those schools where the speech and theatre programs are not in lock-step, we want to show how a happy marriage of programs can contribute to greater success for all. Join these successful, effective teachers, directors, and coordinators as they share ideas and strategies for not only sharing students but also sharing a philosophy of cooperation and success among all of your students and colleagues. Opportunities for questions, answers, and discussion will be provided.

D – 2 Lit That Fits Grand Ballroom G

Sponsor: Oral Interpretation & Performance Studies
Coordinator: J.P. Fugler, Lindale High School
Chair: J.P. Fugler, Lindale High School

Presenters: J.P. Fugler, Lindale High School
 Aimee Kasprzyk, Hillsboro High School

Ever struggle to find appropriate and meaningful literature for your performers? Two veteran coaches will share their process in guiding students to literature that will help the performer grow and mature. Great for New and Veteran Coaches.

D – 3 “But this Isn’t a Speech Course!”:
Inspiring Minds Through

Evidence

Conference Center B

Sponsor: Instructional Development, College & University

Coordinator: Duane Gundrum, Del Mar College

Chair: Duane Gundrum, Del Mar College

Presenters: Mike Jones, Del Mar College

In recent years, the expansion of technology has altered the landscape of education in ways never seen before. Whether it is through a flipped lesson, web-enhancement throughout a course or the offering of a course in a hybrid or fully online format, technology has made it all possible. These changes have provided multiple benefits for education, but they have also brought many changes. Among these changes are increased oversight and regulations at the federal, regional, and state levels and the requirement to provide evidence of how your institution is meeting those regulations. This panel will address federal and state laws related to distance education. Areas covered include accessibility, funding, identity verification, engagement, assessment, and best practices. (Great for instructors and administrators with online and hybrid courses)

Coordinator: Greg Mayo, Westbury High School

Chair: Greg Mayo, Westbury High School

Presenters: Greg Mayo, Westbury High School
Mellessa Denny, Amarillo High School

As classroom teachers, we always hear administrators say, “Content lessons should go across the curriculum.” But how do you make this work? How do you bring another course content into yours? How do you get others to introduce your course content in their classroom to benefit the students? With debate, it is possible. Come see how you can impress your principal and appraiser by showing the importance of debate and communication in the classroom. In addition, bring your ideas to share.

For Prepared Debaters

We're on a mission to build transformative debate technology

Prepd (pronounced "prepped") is building an innovative technology platform for competitive speech and debate. Prepd's applications - Extemp, Congress, Library, and the Classroom - do much more than help debaters research, practice, and compete. Prepd is an educational technology that empowers teachers and engages their students. We've accomplished a lot over the past four and a half years. And yet, we're barely getting started.
