TSCA President, Board Members, and Members:

It is with humility that I accept the nomination for Editor for the Texas Speech Communication Journal. I understand fully the responsibilities that this position entails, and I believe that I am well positioned to insure that the Texas Speech Communication Journal continues to be an outlet for scholars to publish original scholarship that makes a contribution to studies of human communication.

Additionally, I am prepared to insure that all duties are completed and all procedures are followed in accordance with the association's Leadership Handbook to insure timely publication of a quality journal. Having served as a peer reviewer for the Western Journal of Communication since 2014, I have become familiar with the process of obtaining an editorial board for manuscript reviews, the process of how submitted manuscripts are to be tracked, the duties of peer reviewers, and the process of corresponding with authors once decisions have been made. In addition, having served as a Program Manager in a non-profit organization for 5 years, I believe that I have the administrative experience to maintain needed records essential for the tracking and publishing aspects of this position.

I truly am committed to the mission of the Texas Speech Communication Association. Since joining this association, I have actively participated in annual conventions through presenting research in both paper and panel discussions. I have also attended the interest group meetings most closely related to my areas of specialization, and have most recently been elected as Vice-Chair of the Rhetoric and Communication Theory division. In this position, I have actively worked in assisting in generating panel ideas, and in the formation of panels, desiring to stimulate more participation from individuals from both the junior college and university level. The following year, I will act as Chair of this interest group in accordance with the prescribed rotation. Ultimately, it is my desire to see the nation's largest state professional communication association continue to thrive as we "stimulate the intellectual and professional enrichment of our members" (TSCA, 2012). I believe I am best equipped to help advance this mission through the journal editor position; as such, I graciously accept the nomination.

Sincerely,

Leslie Y. Rodriguez, Ph.D.

Review of Service

As a member of Texas Speech Communication Association for the last three years, I have attempted to get involved as opportunities presented themselves:

In the last three years, I have:

- Attended the annual conventions.
- Presented on various paper and discussion panels:
 - “The Ebola Crisis: From the Perspective of Nurses.” Paper presented at Texas Speech Communication Association Convention, Dallas, Texas, October 2015.
 - “Going Online: Strategies to Create the Best Online Classrooms for Speech”. Discussion Panel at Texas Speech Communication Association Convention, Dallas, TX, October 2015.
 - “Interpersonal Challenges in the Online Environment: Creating Instructor Immediacy.” Paper presented at Texas Speech Communication Association Convention, Dallas, TX, October 2015.
 - “Flipping the Classroom: Analysis of Hands-On Instruction.” Paper presented at Texas Speech Communication Association Convention, Lubbock, TX, October 2014.
- Attended and provided input in interest group meetings; specifically, the Rhetoric and Communication Theory and Interpersonal/Organizational Communication interests group.
 - In 2015, I was elected Vice-Chair of the Rhetoric and Communication Theory interest group. As such, I will be Chair of this group in the prescribed rotation.

Although I have only been part of this association for three years, I have been committed to being actively involved, and will continue to do so .
