

TexaSPEAKS

Monthly Newsletter
July 2022

We're gearing up to head back into the classroom! Looking for a way to engage your students and get to know them at the start of the year? Try this 10 Things Project - students are empowered to choose a way to present their work to you!

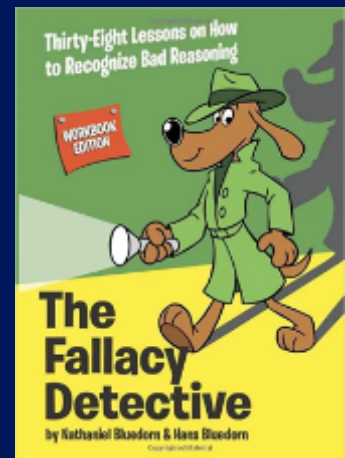

New Members

Encourage new members to register for and attend convention! The first 75 new members to register will receive a $50 discount on their convention registration.

Classroom Resource Recommendation

Teaching logical fallacies is a crucial component of Debate and basic Communication classes. This is an awesome workbook that teaches 38 different fallacies and activities to practice with!

Looking to set roots down at a new educational institution? Check out job postings here. Know about a job or want to add a job listing? email webamster@etsca.com with details.

2023 Journal Submissions

Click here to read the call for submissions for our 2023 Academic Journal. We are seeking papers that focus on research in human communication.

Submissions must be received by:
December 31, 2022.

Need to participate in convention by being a part of a panel to ensure your attendance? Email Ryan Lovell at:
Ryan.Lovell@amaisd.org

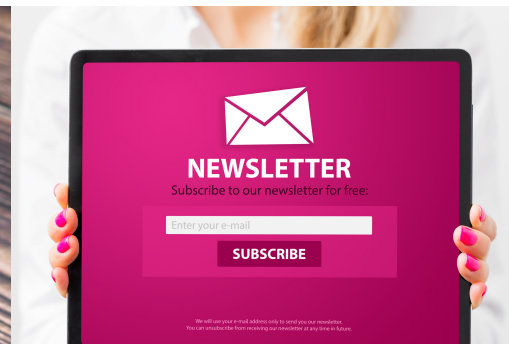

Work-Life Balance

As school picks back up, remember to block off time for yourself and your loved ones. Education is a service-based career but remember - you cannot fill others' cups if yours is empty.

Thank You

As a thank you to our educators who have shown years of dedication and service, all educators who have attended TSCA Convention for 25 years or more will receive a free convention registration.

CONVENTION 2022
ROCKWALL, TX
OCTOBER 5-8, 2022

REGISTER HERE

NEXT YEAR'S THEME:
KEEP IT SIMPLE!

LEGISLATIVE UPDATES

TSCA is currently working on:

- Restoring a state required speech credit
- Allowing Oral Interpretation to count for a Fine Arts credit
- Exploring the creation of AP Debate and Oral Interpretation courses

NEWSLETTER SUBMISSIONS

Have a resource or announcement to share with the body? Email socialmediatsca@gmail.com